

Health Beds

A family-run business, Health Beds is delighted to report the results of a recent Which? magazine test. 'The Memory-Med 1400 pocketed model with dual-density memory foam fillings came top in the category of spring and foam,' says David Smeaton.

Products were tested and judged on the best overall combination of body and lumbar support. Simulating approximately 10 years of use, a roller was passed over each mattress 60,000 times.

With prices starting at £400 for a double divan set, the company offers a comprehensive range of products including the Classic Choice Sleep System and the Natural Latex Sleep System.

Original Bedstead Company

Taking inspiration from Victorian styling, the Original Bedstead Company has created the Waterford bedstead. Using the purest brass to create a timeless design, it not only looks the part but is also durable. Beech sprung slats are used, together with the option of setting the base at one of two heights – 14 and 17 inches.

'A fusion of form and function are the principles we work to,' says owner Matthew Atkins. 'Every bed that leaves our workshop is handmade to age-old techniques, using a unique antiquing process to ensure the look of a true original.'

Mansion House Bedding Company Ltd

The Mayfair from the Old English Bed Company range has a 140 pocket-sprung mattress, upholstered with four layers of fillings – including pure new wool and silk. With three rows of hand side stitching around the mattress, turning handles and brass breather vents, this model offers a great deal of comfort.

Available in a range of colours, the base pictured is upholstered in a new range of fabrics, entitled Novello. However, there are many base options – such as the new Deep Firm Edge Pocket Sprung base which contains 1,000 pocket springs. Co-ordinating upholstered headboards in three different heights are also available.
